

VICE-CONSUL WAS ROUGHLY HANDLED

Struck and Pelted With Fish by Chinese and Japanese Assaultants.

Victoria, B. C., January 18.—Details of the assault on United States Vice-Consul Williamson at Dalny, Manchuria, by Japanese, December 23, briefly reported in Washington by cable, were received last night by the steamer Itanashiro. Mr. Williamson, according to advices received, went to inspect the fish market recently opened by Japanese at Dalny, and was on a high stand watching an auction sale when a number of Japanese and Chinese fishermen pushed into the market. Mr. Williamson was almost pushed off the stand.

He was straightening himself up in the crush when several Japanese, including the secretary and a clerk of the market, began scolding him for being there, at the same time pushing their way toward him and seizing him by the arms and pulling him from the stand. Mr. Williamson was wrong for him to watch the sale, saying he would leave after they gave him a reason.

Then the Japanese rushed at him, he pushed one of them over in self-defense, and the crowd rushed at him, both Japanese and Chinese attacking him. A Japanese thrust at him with a bamboo pole, wounding him on the chin. Another, it is said, threw a block of ice, which cut Mr. Williamson on the head, blood flowing freely. Several threw fish at him.

Refuse to Make Arrests.
Mr. Williamson made his way to the police station, half a block distant, and some Japanese policemen accompanied him back to the market, where the two Japanese who first attacked him were found. The consul asked that they be taken to the police station, but, according to the version received here, the police did not take them.

Mr. Williamson made a protest to the Japanese administrator at Dalny and sent telegrams and letters to Washington reporting the assault.

Several Japanese newspapers commented on the affair, as well as on an attack made about the same time on Miss Hayes, an American, at Yokohama, by a Japanese newspaper reporter, who, it is alleged, struck her violently about the head several times, without apparent cause.

Comment of Kobe Herald.

Regarding the attack on Vice-Consul Williamson, the Kobe Herald says: "From messages received by the Osaka Mainichi and Asahi, it is evident that official statement will be made at present. The accounts received by Japanese papers are, however, sufficient to prevent the matter being allowed to rest, and prompt measures should be taken by the authorities to bring the assaulters to justice."

TO HONOR CARDINAL

The Gibbons Memorial Hall Will Be Erected in Washington.

Baltimore, Md., January 18.—Dedication has been given to plans for the building of a new structure, to be known as the Cardinal Gibbons Memorial Hall, at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., which is intended to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the consecration to the priesthood and the coincident twenty-fifth anniversary of the elevation to the cardinalate of the Cardinal Archbishop of Baltimore. These two events in the life of Cardinal Gibbons occurred on June 30, and the anniversaries indicated will be celebrated this year. To-day a meeting of the clergy of the diocese was held at St. Mary's Seminary, and to-night one of the faculty at the Catholic Club, and at these the plans for raising the necessary money was perfected. Bishop O. B. Corrigan was made chairman of a committee of fifteen to receive subscriptions to the building fund.

"I know why some fail and why others 'make good.'"

"I intend to pass out my knowledge to you, and I'll begin with this little chunk of wisdom: 'The only way to judge a collar is by the number of trips it can make to the laundry.'"

"Try this on ordinary collars, then on Corliss-Coon Collars."

SENATOR WANTS PROMPT ACTION

Threatens to Move Discharge of Finance Committee From Bill.

Washington, January 18.—Senator Beveridge is going to move that the powerful Senate Committee on Finance be discharged from the further consideration of his bill to prohibit the giving of coupons with tobacco in any form, unless the committee reports on the bill within the near future.

He gave notice to that effect in the Senate yesterday afternoon, after a sharp colloquy with Senator Smoot, who spoke for the Finance Committee, as to why there was delay in securing committee action on it. Answering the inquiry of the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Smoot said that the measure had been referred to a subcommittee for investigation, and that was the reason for delay in committee action.

Senator Beveridge came back at him quick. "Why is the bill referred to a subcommittee, when it is in the exact language as the committee reported it as an amendment to the tariff law and as it passed the Senate as a part of that bill?" he asked.

Opposed by Independents.
"I don't think I need tell the Senator that I am in favor of its provisions," remarked Mr. Smoot.

"But why is it referred?"
"A number of independent manufacturers have said they are opposed to this measure and have asked for a hearing," was Mr. Smoot's explanation. "That would seem a reasonable explanation but for one fact," persisted Mr. Beveridge. "Isn't it true that when this came up in connection with the tariff bill, the committee held exhaustive hearings?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Smoot, "but since that time some independent manufacturers have stated to members of the committee their opposition."

Senator Beveridge remarked that the United States had a primary case against independent manufacturers were opposed. "Isn't it also true that the American Tobacco Company, called the tobacco trust, is opposed to it?"

That company is opposed to some of its provisions, Mr. Smoot said. When pressed to explain why he had not mentioned its opposition, he replied that he, as most Senators, was more interested in the attitude of independents than of a corporation.

Senator Beveridge still pressed on, while every member of the Senate in the chamber—and there were a large number—took special interest in the colloquy. He wanted to know next how many independents were opposed to the anti-coupon bill. Mr. Smoot said he knew of three.

Its Supporters Numerous.
"Isn't it true," persisted Mr. Beveridge, "that this bill is opposed by the American Tobacco Company and by three independents, and that it is favored by the great bulk of the independents?"

Mr. Smoot admitted that the independents favorable to the measure are numerous. Again Mr. Beveridge asked for speedy action on the bill by the Finance Committee, and he concluded the discussion by announcing his intention to enter a motion to discharge the committee unless there is some action soon.

HORNET MAY BE SEIZED

Washington Investigating Alleged Violation of Neutrality.

Washington, D. C., January 18.—Until the Attorney-General completes the investigation which he is conducting into the question as to whether or not the Hornet, the "navy" of General Bonilla's revolutionary forces in Honduras, violated the neutrality of the United States, the vessel will not be permitted by this government to commit any definite hostile act, such as the bombardment of a port. This was learned at the State Department to-day. Every movement of the Hornet is being watched by the United States gunboats Marietta and Tacoma, now in Honduran waters. The Tacoma arrived at Trujillo yesterday, when the Marietta left that port for Puerto Cortez.

If the Department of Justice, upon the conclusion of the inquiry which is being made, decides that the United States has a prima facie case against the Hornet indicating that she used the American flag and the port of New Orleans in a violation of neutrality it is probable that she will be seized by one of the American gunboats and brought to a port of the United States for trial. The Attorney-General is studying the case from the standpoint of international law and precedent.

SENATORS OPPOSE REFORMATORY

Fight on Institution Near Mount Vernon to Be Led by Swanson and Martin.

Washington, D. C., January 18.—The fight against the establishment of a reformatory of the District on the Belvoir tract of land near Mount Vernon, as proposed by the commissioners, is to be carried to the floor of the Senate.

Senators Swanson and Martin, of Virginia, who opposed the commissioners' selection at a recent hearing at the District building, and who have been urging the commission of fine arts to report against the site to the President, are to speak in the Senate in opposition to it, and Senator du Pont, of Delaware, who has received protests from the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association against the building of a penal institution in the vicinity of the historic places in Fairfax county, Va., will back them up with some remarks on the floor.

It is expected that a resolution or bill directing the commissioners to look elsewhere for ground upon which to keep prisoners convicted in the District courts will be introduced. Just what is best for Congress to do has not yet been decided by these opposed to the use of the Belvoir tract, according to Senator Swanson.

"But we are going to fight to a finish," he added, in discussing the matter this afternoon.

The agitation against the purchase of the Belvoir site for the District reformatory was started by the association of women which has control over the old home and the tomb of the Father of His Country, although Mount Vernon is some three and one-half miles from the Belvoir site. They sent to Senator du Pont a vigorous protest, and he had it read in the Senate. It was also upon his motion that the commissioners were asked to tell the Senate why they chose the Belvoir tract as the site for the reformatory.

Senator du Pont said to-day that he was strongly interested in the matter, but would wait for the Virginia Senators to act, and probably would speak in the Senate in support of their contentions. It is understood he bases his protest on patriotic grounds, on the proximity of the proposed site to Mount Vernon and other historic spots in the Old Dominion.

Steps were taken in the Senate to-day by Senator Gallinger to allow those opposed to the site an opportunity to voice their position on the floor of the Senate. When the reply of the commissioners was received a few days ago it was referred to the Senate District committee. He asked this afternoon that the report be taken from the committee and that it be laid on the table of the Senate, so it can be taken up for purposes of discussion. His explanation was that several Senators had told him they desired to speak on it.

TWENTY-FIVE JAPS SENTENCED TO DIE

They Must Pay Death Penalty for Seeking Life of Emperor.

Tokio, January 18.—D. Kotoku, his wife and twenty-three fellow anarchists were to-day sentenced to death for having conspired against the life of the Emperor and other members of the imperial family. Two other men similarly accused were released.

In pronouncing sentence the chief justice read a long statement outlining the conspiracy, and said that the course of the investigation leading to the arrest of the anarchists and the subsequent trial, which has been exhaustive and in every detail absolutely fair, impartial and constitutional, had proved beyond a doubt that "Gotoku and his associates plotted a violent revolution by means of explosives and deadly weapons. They intended to plunder the wealth, burn the government offices, assassinate the high officials, attack the imperial palace and attempt the life of the crown prince, whose palace is less securely guarded."

The prisoners accepted their fate smilingly. In leaving the court Mme. Kotoku bowed to the spectators and said:

"We beg the pardon of all of you who once lived in America."

A Tokio newspaper, which had at once time lived in San Francisco, where he is said to have been associated with a political organization, was the alleged leader of the plot discovered last September. All of the prisoners were first arraigned before a special court, the duties of which are similar to those of a grand jury in America.

November 3 this court announced that the prisoners had been found guilty, and recommended that they be punished under clause 72 of the criminal statutes, which provides capital punishment for plotters against the imperial family.

Fire Wipes Out Army.
Brundage, Mo., January 18.—Fire destroyed the armory of the Tenth Company, Maine Coast Artillery, early to-day, causing a loss of about $30,000. Shortly after the fire was discovered the magazine exploded and carried away the roof. Explosions of rifle shells in a different part of the building made the work of the firemen doubly dangerous, but no one was injured.

against the imperial family. The wife of Kotoku was the only woman in the band.

Public Excluded from Trial.
The trial proper opened December 10 in the Supreme Court. The public was excluded on the ground that publicity in connection with the proceedings might be prejudicial to peace and the maintenance of public morality.

Denjire Kotoku and his associates were quickly arrested last fall following the discovery by the police of a plot to assassinate the Emperor. The facts of the arrest were kept secret until September 30, when they were announced by the Hoch Shimbun.

The publication caused a sensation, as it was the first time in the history of the empire that a conspiracy against its Majesty had been discovered among its subjects.

Plan to Assassinate Emperor.
According to the paper, the assassin planned to accomplish their end while the Emperor was visiting the military school just outside the capital. Two days later the Japanese government issued an official and positive denial of the Hoch Shimbun's statement that the prisoners were accused of plotting to assassinate the Emperor.

The police at the time explained that a number of anarchists had been arrested on suspicion of having been engaged in the manufacture of bombs.

Nevertheless, the special court was soon organized and examined the prisoners on the allegations upon which they were subsequently convicted and sentenced.

Man Found Tied to a Tree in the Suburbs of Paris.

Paris, January 18.—The man who described himself as Harry Miller, an American, and who was discovered Sunday night bound to a tree in the woods a short distance outside of Paris, had now been identified by the police as an individual who has subsisted on charity and with whom they have already had trouble. The man's name is now given as Rosenblum. He recently was expelled from Germany. He is under arrest charged with being an impostor.

When Rosenblum was found by a squad of soldiers he told a story of having been attacked by two men who had robbed him of all his clothing and $1,000, beaten him and tied him to a tree. The police say that his story is shamming attempted suicide.

In this manner he obtained credulous sympathizers. He served a term in prison here last year.

Chester Comes In For a Big Whack at Benefits of It.

A $10 fountain pen for $1! Incredible? Perhaps—but true. Impossible? Not at all. A good bicycle used to sell for $150—now you can buy the same thing for $18. It's a matter of methods—in making and selling. Under the "trust" plan of show sales and enormous profits you pay from $2.50 to $10 for a decent fountain pen—there's a lot of cheap rubbish, of course, that doesn't count.

At F. A. Miller's Pharmacy, 519 East Broad street, this week, you can buy the highest grades of fountain pens at $1 each—exactly equal in every way to the $3 and $10 kinds.

It is a big special sale of the pens made by J. Harris & Co.—outside the trust—a concern that deals in immense quantities of material, labor and output and reckons margins on their gross lots instead of on single pens.

Mr. Miller has investigated their reliability, which is absolute. Every sale is on the basis of money refunded if there is the slightest dissatisfaction.

Pens with fountain pen and ball-point gold, sterling silver and pearl mounts are offered in this sale at $1 each. There are 74 styles and $10.00 stock to select from.

There are not $1 pens, even under the cheapest cost reducing methods of Harris & Co. Regularly they sell for much more. This is a big fight against the trust; the public gets the benefit—and the greatest. One year's written guarantee from the maker with each pen.
